The Breeze Annual

1928

Washington Gardner High School
Albion, Michigan

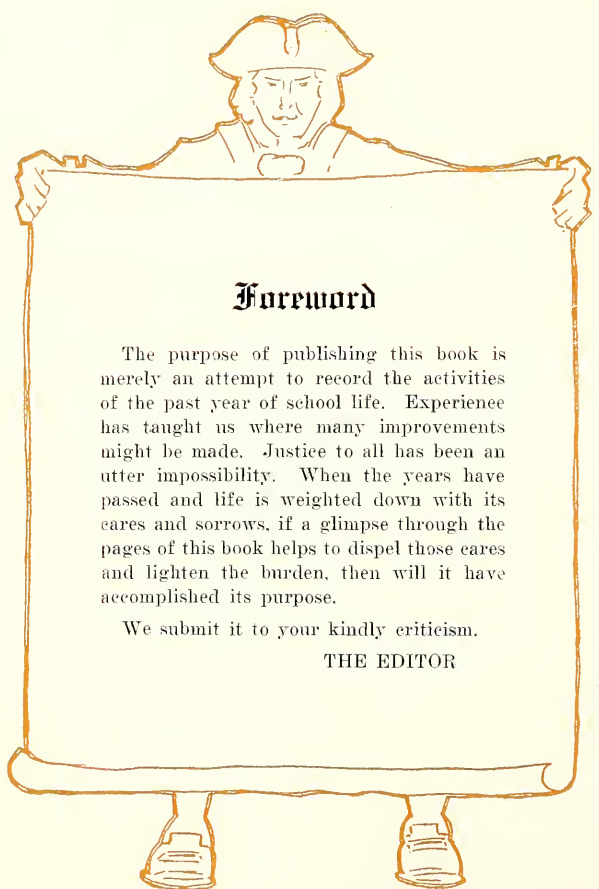

Dedication

To Sybil G. Robinson, for her many years of service to the Albion schools
and for her kindly advice as Art
Editor of the annual, we dedicate this volume.

Appreiation

To Julia McCune, the Seniors wish to express their sincere appreciation for her wise council and untiring efforts as class advisor in their Junior and Senior years.

Foreword

The purpose of publishing this book is merely an attempt to record the activities of the past year of school life. Experience has taught us where many improvements might be made. Justice to all has been an utter impossibility. When the years have passed and life is weighted down with its cares and sorrows, if a glimpse through the pages of this book helps to dispel those cares and lighten the burden, then will it have accomplished its purpose.

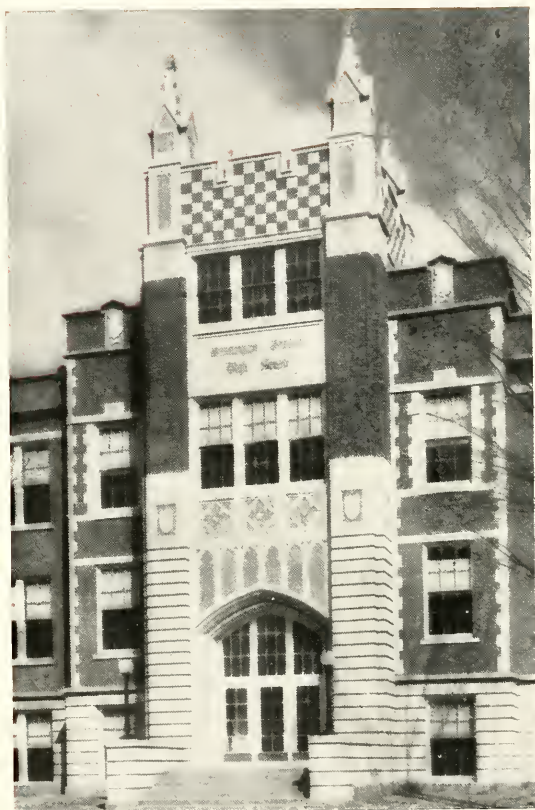

We submit it to your kindly criticism.

The present Junior Class entered in the fall of 1925. The first time this class made its influence felt was when they held the Sophomores at bay in a tug-of-war across the Kalamazoo river. At the banquet that year they were represented by Henry Brown as toastmaster and Richard Chauncey, who gave the toast. In this year the class gained recognition in athletics as two of its members received the much-coveted "A".

Upon entering the Sophomore year the class was defeated by the Freshmen in a tug-of-war, but immediately regained prestige by being represented in the Declamation contest by Margaret McCulloch. This year six of the boys gained an "A" in football, and the debate team was the runner-up in the interclass contest. Henry Brown once more represented them at the banquet.

Their Junior Year proved to be one of great activity. Eleven athletes received the "A" in football, while the interclass basketball team won the championship. Margaret McCulloch represented them on the High School debating team and in oratory. The most important event of the season, the Junior Ex, proved a great success. The Junior-Senior Reception, also an important occasion, provided much merriment for both Seniors and Juniors. Not only did they excel in athletics but their interclass debate team once more came to the fore, capturing high honors.

The Class of 1930 entered their freshmen year with Charles Matheson as president; Howard Dean, Vice President; Noble Moore, Secretary; and Sally Fall, Treasurer. With a nine man team we forced the Sophs to "swim for it" in the annual tug-o-war. On the Junior High Student Council, Minard Farley was President the first semester and Jane Brown the second. "Mike" Maksimchuk, received an "A" in football that year and after a stiff battle with words in the annual Freshman and Sophomore debate, we lost by a 3 to 0 decision. That year William Wildt excellently represented us as toastmaster at the Junior High Banquet, and, to climax such a successful year thirteen of our members left their names on the permanent Junior High Honor Roll.

In our Sophomore year we were even more successful. Our class advisor was Miss Krotzer and our officers were Howard Dean, President; Don Humphrey, Vice President; Vivian Miles, Secretary; and Ruth Hembdt, Treasurer. We had the most successful class party at Christmas that we have ever had. Four of our members received "A" in football and our team was runner up in interclass basketball. We not only pulled the Freshmen in the river this year but we won the Freshman and Sophomore debate by a 2 to 1 decision. Minard Farley gave the Sophomore toast at the High School Banquet this year.

As we have two more years in Albion High School we are going to try to do our bit in upholding the record of our school.

The Student Council

OFFICERS

President	Harold Spiegel
Vice President	James Sebastian
Secretary and Treasurer	Rebecca Richards
Sergeant at Arms	Henry Brown

The council consists of eighteen members, each of the three upper classes being represented by three boys and three girls. The purpose of this organization is to promote the ideals of the school and to create a better understanding between the students and the teachers.

The Student Council has sponsored some very worthwhile projects this year. They purchased a bust of Charles A. Lindbergh, financed the sending of the band away to several of the games, and they are planning to publish a handbook.

The members of the Council hold responsible positions as representatives of the students and their position should be one of honor and respect.

Debating

For the second successive year Albion has had a debating team which has made a mark in the forensic field of Michigan high schools.

Starting the season with only one veteran Coach E. B. Thomas took a group of inexperienced debaters and welded them together into a team which won four and lost two debates in the state league.

Five debaters were carried on the squad throughout the season and all did creditable work. The team started the season by losing to Ottawa Hills. After this four successive victories were rung up. The victims of this winning streak were Coldwater, Kalamazoo Central, Hastings, and Grand Rapids Union. The final debate of the year was also lost to Ottawa Hills. Even though twice defeated the team ranked among the thirty-two best teams in the state.

Harold Spiegel was captain and third speaker throughout the season while other members of the squad were Margaret McCulloch, Catherine Robinson, Betty Way, and George Mather.

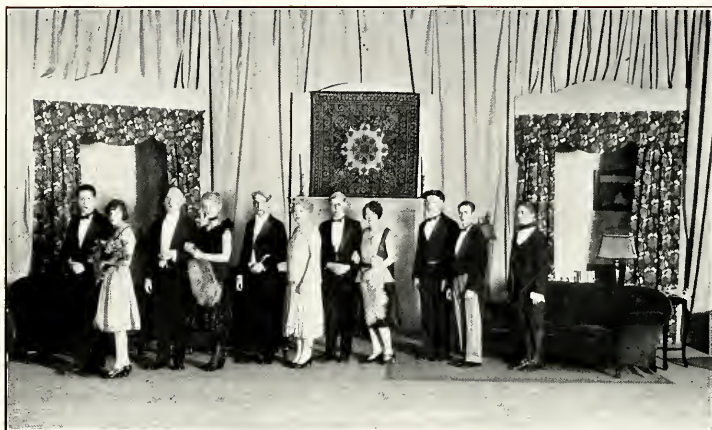

The Thalian Club

OFFICERS

President	Geraldine Miller
Vice President	Catherine Robinson
Secretary and Treasurer	Russel Smith

The Thalian Club was organized in 1925 by the cast of the Breeze play. The requirement for belonging to this club is to have been in a play put on for the financial benefit of some High School organization. After giving "The Family Upstairs" the Junior Ex cast entered last year. The Juniors in "Duley" entered this year.

The meetings are held on the first and third Thursdays of each month. The purpose of the club is to further the appreciation of dramatics in the High School. The activities of the club this year consist of the production of two one act plays, "Flowers for Flossie" and "The Widow's Mite"; a theater party; besides the programs at the regular meetings.

Breeze Play

Each year it is customary for the Breeze Staff to sponsor a play given for the financial benefit of the Breeze Annual. This year the staff presented the three act comedy, "So This Is London" on February 24.

The play is concerned with the conflict between an English and an American family. The English thinks that nothing good ever came from America, and the Americans think the same thing about England. This feeling was brought to a climax when "Junior" Draper, the American boy, expressed his intentions of marrying an English girl, Elinor Beecham. In the end each family found that the other was not so bad after all, and all ends happily.

The cast was as follows:

Hiram Draper, Junior	James Sebastian
Elinor Beecham	Judith Tench
Lady Ducksworth	Geraldine Miller
Hiram Draper, Senior	Robert Gregory
Mrs. Hiram Draper	Marjorie Austin
A Flunky at the Ritz	Randall Lysher
Sir Percy Beecham	Carl Lambrecht
Alfred Honeycutt	Lawrence Comstock
Lady Beecham	Catherine Robinson
Thomas, a butler	Nathaniel Fillmore
Jennings, Lady Ducksworth's Butler	Russel Smith

Junior Ex

The thirtieth annual Junior Ex was very successfully produced on March 23 in the auditorium. Considerable talent was displayed both in the literary part of the program and in the play "Duley".

The members of the class opened the program with the song "Welcome Sweet Springtime." The president's address was delivered by Rebecca Richards. Jane Nowlin gave the class essay, "Jazz."

The musical number of the evening was a piano duet by Laurine Dernier and Lucile Ganka. The literary program was brought to a close by the oration, "The New Italy," which was delivered by Grace Mather.

The play "Duley" was then presented by the members of the class, each member playing his part with feeling and understanding.

The cast was as follows:

Bill Parker, Duley's brother	Glenn Kemler
Henry, the butler	Roy Steeby
Gordon Smith, Duley's husband	Henry Brown
Tom Sterrett, advertising engineer	Marshall Steeby
Dulcinea	Dorothy Shannon
Schuyler Van Dyke	Jack Northwood
C. Roger Forbes, millionaire	Randall Lysher
Eleanor Forbes, his wife	Vivian Martin
Angela, his daughter	Justine Sleight
Vincent Leach, scenarist	Richard Chamncey

The Girls' Club

OFFICERS

President	Geraldine Miller
Vice President	Catharine Robinson
Secretary and Treasurer	Margaret Spiegel
Advisor	Miss Pratt

Committee Chairmen:

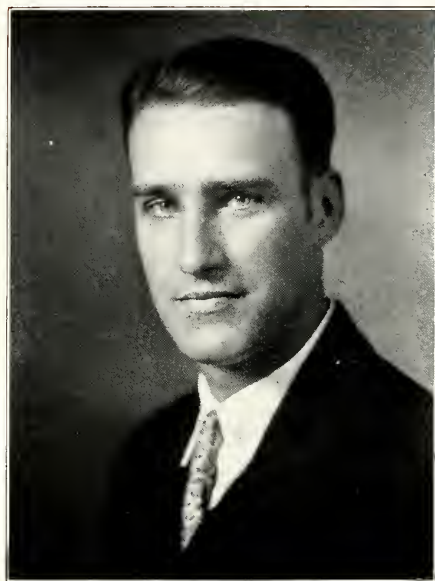

Boosters	Caroline Young
Athletic	Jean Laverty
Social	Grace Gardner

The Girls' Club was organized this year at the request of the girls for the creation of a wholesome and more democratic spirit among the High School girls.

The work of the club is carried on in the three committees: The Boosters, which endeavors to arouse the school spirit especially for debates and games; the Athletic committee, which tends to promote interest in girls' sports; the Social committee, which plans the parties and social activities of the High School girls.

Music

Mr. Bilhorn

The present high grade music department of our high school owes its growth in a large measure to the untiring labors of two men, Mr. Kenneth Umfleet, former director of music, and to the present director, Mr. Clarence P. Bilhorn. During the year that Mr. Umfleet was with us he placed music on a firm foundation and started it on the way to its present standard.

Coming to us two years ago Mr. Bilhorn plunged into the building up of the department with a never-say-die spirit which has placed music on a higher level than ever before in the school. We feel certain that under the direction of Mr. Bilhorn the department will continue to move toward even higher goals.

The Band

The growth of instrumental work in the Albion Public Schools in the past two years is but an indication of what may be developed under proper leadership and encouragement. The present band and orchestra are in the embryonic stage; however, the fact that many of the members of both organizations are now in the Junior High School, gives promise of a group of experienced players within the next few years. Sixteen players of the second band were recently transferred to the first band, making a total instrumentation of fifty pieces for the Second Annual Home Concert given in the High School Auditorium. Wind instrument classes for beginners have been conducted for the past three years. The continuance of these classes will always provide the necessary "new material" for the band. That the band is an active organization of real merit is shown by a summary of its appearances during the year 1927-28 in its snappy maroon and white uniforms; pepped up enthusiasm at all home football and basketball games; cooperated with the Marshall High School Band to put over a combined program of pep and entertainment while our basketball squad outrutted the county-seaters on their own floor; stirred up enthusiasm in its assembly programs, performed for the P. T. A. and the County Teacher's Institute; gave a benefit program for the rural children of the county; gave "guest performances" at the Commander Byrd lecture in Battle Creek, and the U. S. Veteran's Hospital at Camp Custer, finishing its most successful season with the Second Annual Home Concert as part of Albion's observance of National Music Week.

The Orchestra

Because the band is the easier organization to organize and promote, and since it is brought before the public in so many functions which require martial strains of music, the importance of the orchestra is sometimes underestimated. Every effort should be made by the pupils to support this organization, for the growth in the appreciation of good music on the part of the student body—and more or less directly, the townspeople—will only approach what it should be as the students participate in the study of good music in the orchestra. Good violin, viola and 'cello players are only developed through years of study. Until the pupils now enrolled in the violin classes conducted in the grades come to the high school as well trained musicians will there be an adequate number of string players in Albion High School to insure an orchestra of anything better than mediocre ability. Until that time, much progress is being made with the present group. Their major public appearance this year at the pageant "America the Beautiful" given by the high school, was received most favorably by the public.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club is coming into its own with a boys' chorus of forty voices in the Junior High to supply trained material, the senior group is assured of its twenty-four members. Several programs, most of which have been sung without accompaniment, have been given during the year. Membership is limited and is by tryouts, indications being that there will be keen competition next fall.

Girls' Glee Club

The Senior Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Skoog is limited to thirty voices and has pleased all its audiences this year. With a waiting list of over twenty-five and a Junior Girls' Club of forty voices, the quality of those selected for the club is guaranteed.

There are few high schools in which no form of choral organization is found. Singing is the form of music expression which should be available for all students. It is a proven fact that the school that sings has a better morale among its student-body; assembly sings should be encouraged. With our new auditorium and the good collection of song slides, this form of student self-expression should become part of the student life of Albion High.

If singing is so important a medium of self expression, the fostering of carefully selected groups for Glee Clubs and choruses should receive the whole-hearted support of students and faculty. To learn to sing correctly is to learn to speak correctly, and this means proper breathing, good articulation and enunciation. It means the study of the best choral literature of

Mixed Chorus

The Mixed Chorus includes the two clubs and those on the waiting list. It is possible to perform works and realize new beauties, not possible with either the boys' or girls' groups separately. The numbers studied this year have been both sacred and secular.

many countries and nationalities, of different periods and schools of music, and of various type and forms. Surely, there are objectives which are worthy of consideration in the high school curriculum. Many are the schools whose class glee clubs and choruses are extra-curricular necessitating rehearsals after school hours, during the lunch hour or the clearance period. But with the recognizing of the importance of these objectives and the true worth of music study, music is being placed on an equality with other basic subjects in school time in all progressive schools. "Rome was not built in a day." Neither can music be fitted into the Albion curriculum on an equality basis with other subjects in a year or two. It must wait until it has proven itself worthwhile and until expansion of the curriculum can be provided for.

Operetta

For the first time in two or three years the music department succeeded in producing an operetta, it being one of the most successful musical attempts ever sponsored by the High School. It was through the untiring efforts of Miss Skoog and Mr. Bilhorn that the operetta was a credit to the school.

The operetta was called "The Gypsy Rover" and was filled with life and gaiety. The attractive costumes created a most artistic atmosphere.

"The Gypsy Rover" is in three acts and is built around the character of Rob, later known as Sir Gilbert Howe, of English nobility. Rob is stolen when a child by his nurse, Meg, who later becomes the wife of Marto, a gypsy. Rob grows to manhood among the gypsies believing Meg and Marto to be his parents.

It happens one day, while riding with her fiancé, Lord Craven, Lady Constance Martendale becomes lost in the woods. They wander to a gypsy camp where Constance and Rob meet and fall in love at first sight. Craven objects to Rob's attitude, but in a very funny comedy scene with Marto and Sinfo, he is made to tell Sir George, who later comes in search of Constance, that Rob is a charming fellow. In act two Rob goes to the home of Constance and serenades her. They plan to elope but are overheard by Craven who informs Sir George and plans are made to capture Rob. This is accomplished successfully and Rob is thrown into prison, but later escapes.

Two years elapse and Rob has come into his estates, his identity having been proven by Meg. He becomes a successful composer, a friend of the prince, and a social lion.

Constance has remained true to her love for Rob and on his return to England, he woos and wins her for his wife. As Rob says, "The good fairies have led me to the beautiful country after all, and our story, Constance, can end in the proper way." They live happily ever after.

Athletics

Coach Dan Fisher

For the past four years Coach Dan Fisher has directed the destiny of athletics at Albion high school. During this time his teams have brought six championships to the school and have conquered many of the Class A teams in Michigan scholastic circles. More than all of this, however, is the fact that he has always insisted that the team play the game cleanly and squarely. Athletic directors may come and go from Albion but it will be many years before we will forget Dan Fisher.

Athletic Board

OFFICERS

President	John Coombs
Secretary	Lawrence Osmun
Treasurer	H. C. Walter

The athletics of the school are supervised by the athletic board. This group is composed of four members of the faculty and the four athletic team managers. It has charge of the financing of the athletic teams and other details concerning athletic matters. The board has carried on all of these things in a highly efficient manner and is to be congratulated for its fine work.

Football

With the championship football team of 1926 practically intact supporters of the Red and White looked forward confidently to another championship in 1927. Their hopes were more than wholly realized when the local warriors not only headed the Little Ten but also defeated the strong Class A team from Kalamazoo Central, 38-12. The only game lost by the gridgers was the Battle Creek contest.

The Fishermen started the season with a rush, slumped slightly in mid-season, and then assumed the proportions of a battering ram in the closing contests. The team reached its peak in the traditional Marshall game which was won by the record breaking score of 83-0. Many persons believe that this eleven was the best team to ever represent the Red and White.

As to stars there were many on the local team but the work of Captain Osmun, plunging fullback, and Ludlow, diminutive quarterback, stood out above the rest.

Season's summary:

Albion 38; Kalamazoo Central 12.	Albion 34; Sturgis 0.
Albion 6; Battle Creek 24.	Albion 44; Coldwater 0.
Albion 26; Charlotte 0.	Albion 83; Marshall 0.
Albion 19; Grand Ledge 0.	Albion 47; Hillsdale 0.

Basketball

Sweeping all competition aside the Red and White basketball team won the Little Ten court title for the second successive year running the record of Little Ten titles won by A. H. S. to five straight and six in all.

With an all-veteran team to rely upon the Red and White supporters saw their warriors defeat Marshall, Sturgis, Coldwater, Hillsdale and Hastings twice each and win single contests from Eaton Rapids and Mason.

Seven men, all playing their last year of basketball for A. H. S., carried the burden of upholding the honor of the school, winning thirteen games before falling before our old rival, Marshall, at the district tournament.

Behling led the team in scoring and played a sensational, but yet steady and cool game throughout the season. Capt. Ludlow's floor work stood out while Thwaites was an able assistant to Behling in the scoring column. Garfield, Wagoner, and Osmun put up a perfect defense throughout the year while Laity filled in during many games as a capable alternate forward.

Baseball

With the best prospects in recent years the baseball nine, as the Breeze goes to press, has won three out of four games. The game lost was to the Battle Creek team, a class A school, while victories have been won over Tekonsha, Hillsdale and Marshall.

Led by Captain "Bunk" Garfield, the Red and White presented to its opponents a solid front of veteran players with the exception of the right side of the infield. Garfield, Laity and Osmun handled the outfield jobs with Keck and Stephenson in reserve. Gordon Thwaites guarded the hot corner of the infield with Ludlow at short and Gilg or Channcey at second. Stephenson and Miles cavorted around the initial sack.

"Muddy" Shepard was in the catchers box during the season while three different pitchers of merit cavorted on the mound. Behling, four year veteran, was the dean of the staff while Hoaglin, southpaw hurler, and Stockton, a lanky right hander also took their turns on the hill.

Summary of games played:

Albion 3, Tekonsha 2; Albion 10, Hillsdale 0; Albion 3, Battle Creek 9; Albion 4, Marshall 3.

The remainder of the schedule called for the following games: two each with Eaton Rapids and Mason; one each with Hillsdale, Hamtramck, Marshall and Ionia.

REQUIREMENTS FOR SECURING "A"

Football

Any player playing twelve quarters or its equivalent shall be given an "A".

Any player considered by the coach and team as a regular but does not take part in required games shall be given his "A", providing he makes all the trips with the regular team.

Basketball

Any person taking part on a basketball team that represents Albion High School and playing at least three scheduled games shall be given an "A".

Other conditions for winning an "A" are the same as football.

Baseball

Any player taking part in three full games of nine innings each or its equivalent shall be awarded an "A". The three games played must be considered first team games.

Literary Work

Any person taking part in any interscholastic literary work such as debating, oratory or declamation work, shall be given an "A".

The above requirements are taken from the constitution of the Athletic Board.

Dedication

"Washington Gardner High School." What an appropriate name to be given to our new school. How fitting it is that this splendid structure should bear the name of a man so noble.

Hon. Washington Gardner

Hon. Washington Gardner was born in 1845 on a farm in Ohio. At the age of 16, he enlisted in the Union army and while in this service he was severely wounded. In 1876, he graduated with highest honors from the Albany Law School. After practicing law for a time he joined the Michigan Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church and filled a number of the leading pulpits of the state. Later he was elected Commander of the Michigan department of the G. A. R., Secretary of State, and finally Representative. During the later years of his life he held the office of Commissioner of Pensions, at Washington.

DEDICATION PROGRAM

The first of the dedication programs was held February 8, when an inspiring address was given by Webster H. Pearce, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and a former teacher in Albion High School. Mr. Warren S. Holmes, the architect who designed and planned the new building, presented it with its master key to the Board of Education, which Mr. Dice in turn presented to the school authorities and to the Public, Mr. Harrington graciously responding. Mr. J. N. Mauck, president emeritus of Hillsdale College and an intimate friend of Washington Gardner, gave a short address of appreciation, setting forth the high points of our great statesman. Music was furnished by Prof. L. U. Rowland of the College, and the High School Chorus, Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs.

The second program, given February 9, was in the form of a pageant, "America the Beautiful", directed by Miss Harriet Way. This pageant portrayed the various stages in the development of our country, showing in the first part the discovery of America, the coming of Columbus and of Henry Hudson. In part two were pictured colonial scenes, such as the trial of Roger Williams and the Declaration of Independence, leading up to the time of Lincoln and finally to the present time. The third part—the glorification of America—showed all those in the various walks of life who have given all in the interests of their country, who have made America what it is today. The pageant closed with the singing of "America the Beautiful."

Parties

Girls' Club Party—Sept. 23

The Senior girls entertained the Junior and Sophomore girls at a get-acquainted party in the gym. Games and stunts under the direction of Catherine Robinson were enjoyed, followed by a few minutes of dancing. Refreshments of punch and wafers were served at the close of the evening.

All High School Party—October 26

A record crowd attended the H. S. Masquerade Party given under the auspices of the Student Council. Decorations in keeping with the season made a pleasing background for the various costumes that were exhibited. Prizes were awarded to Kenneth Trim for the best costume and to the Seniors for the most clever stunt. Apples and popcorn were served.

Teachers' Party—December 19

An outstanding event of the Christmas season was the Teachers' Party which took place in the Grade Gym. The program, prepared by Miss McCune and her committee consisted of the singing of Christmas Carols by a group of grade children, the story of the Christ Child, read by Mrs. Tyler and some whistling solos by Miss King of the college. Also Mrs. Hall told of Christmas in Siam and Mrs. Penzotti, that of the Latin Countries of South America.

Parties

Carnival—March 16, 17

Confetti! Hot Dogs! Pop! Candy! Ice Cream! And bushels of fun! Such is the remembrance of the H. S. Carnival. And Oh, the inky blackness of the Cave of Horrors! The cold, quelling atmosphere of the Morgue!

Junior High Banquet—February 11

The Valentine scheme prevailed throughout the Jr. High Banquet. The dinner was served by the mothers of the students under the direction of Miss Comstock and Miss Burghdorf. Music during the meal was furnished by the High School Orchestra, directed by Mr. Bilhorn. Then Miss Spear introduced the toastmaster Victor Young, and Esther Everett, Hubert Gaskell and Helen Hollidge responded with toasts. Mr. Harrington spoke in behalf of the faculty and board of Education. Selections by the Miller Quartet and a Valentine dance by Judith Tench and Edith Andrews were opening and closing numbers of the program.

Senior High Banquet—April 14

A clever program featured the Senior High Banquet held in the gym, April 14. Carl Lambrecht, as toastmaster in a clever fashion introduced the various speakers. Minard Farley, '30, Mrs. White of the Board of Education, Margaret Spiegel, '29, Mr. Thomas, of the Faculty and Naomi Kabel, '28. Norman McCarty gave the alumni toast. Mr. Fisher and Mr. Thomas then presented letters to the basketball and debating teams. James Gilbert favored with a flute solo and the Boys' Glee Club Quartette rendered two selections. Dancing was enjoyed following the banquet, the Delta Sigma Chi orchestra furnishing music for the occasion.

Special Assemblies

Western State Glee Club

On Feb. 15 the Men's Glee Club of the Western State Teachers' College under the direction of H. C. Maybee entertained the students. In addition to the chorus numbers, Ernest Hammill rendered a vocal solo, and Paul Nielson pleased with two cello solos. The closing number of the Club, "Old King Cole," was especially pleasing.

Thalian Club

The Thalian Club gave a one-act play, "The Widow's Mite." Those taking part were: Helen Wickham, Robert Reed, Lawrence Kittinger, Zora Herriek.

Christmas Programs

The Senior High Christmas program was in the form of a one-act play "Unto the Least of These." Preceding the play Eunice Barratt favored with two vocal selections accompanied by Margaret Chappel as did also Reginald Eldred. He was accompanied by Ruth Mastin. After the play Santa presented gifts to the "kiddies," after which candy canes were distributed to all.

The Junior High Program took place in the gym. Each class contributed to the program which consisted of recitations, dramatizations, and carol singing. Then Santa arrived with his sleigh and distributed candy canes to the students.

Presentation of Carnegie Medal to Duane Slaughter

On Wednesday afternoon, April 11, a special assembly was held at which time Duane Slaughter was presented with a Carnegie Medal for saving the life of a small child four years ago. The Program opened with the singing of "America," then Mr. Howard Arntz gave an inspiring talk on public safety. He also showed two interesting reels illustrating the need for public safety. Prof. Whitehouse then presented the medal to Duane Slaughter, who is one of forty-six in the United States to be awarded a Carnegie Medal this year.

Oratory

Washington Gardner High School has closed another successful year in speech activities. In the field of oratory, Harold Spiegel has represented the school. His oration: "Monuments to Flanders" with its fine oratorical expression coupled with a keen use of logic won first in the sub-district contest at Charlotte April 20th. On May 4 he won the district contest at Mason using the same oration. On May 18th he competed at the state contest held at Flint. The result of this contest was not known at the time of publication of the Breeze Annual.

This year Albion enrolled in the Michigan High School Extempore Speaking Association for the first time. The local contest displayed a fine interest in this type of speech work by the student body. Harold Spiegel was again honored by being chosen Albion's speaker at Ann Arbor in the district contest which he won, his subject being "Our Bigger Navy Program." The week of May 5 he participated at Kalamazoo where he won the State Championship. His subject at this contest was "The Political Revolution in Illinois."

This type of speech work is new to Albion and should prove valuable and interesting for student development in speech habit for public life.

Inter-class Debating

According to tradition Interclass Debating has been conducted this year with Mr. Kanter and Miss Lewis of the college coaching and assisting in this work. This year's interclass championship debate rests between the Junior and Sophomore teams.

The teams were composed of the following people: Freshmen—Warren Abbot, Victor Young, and Norma Emory; Sophomore—Angelina Magnotta, Agnes Robinson and Henry Borman; Junior—Margaret Spiegel, Justine Sleight, Arda Wilson or Holly Sleeper; Senior—Nathaniel Fillmore, Curt Borman, and Alexandria Brail. There are in all about twenty-five students who interest themselves actively in this speech work, so it may be said to represent to a fair degree a part of the school outside interests.

National Honor Society

When our school asked for membership into the National Honor Society about a year ago it was immediately accepted which indeed speaks well for our school.

The members of this Society are elected each year from the Junior and Senior Classes.

In order to belong to this organization a student must have been in the upper third of his class in scholarship, he must have leadership among the student body, he must have rendered some service to his school and he must rise above his fellow students in character of the right sort.

In short, a member must be an example of the highest type of a student. It is the highest honor to be bestowed on a boy or girl and is a position to be honored and respected.

The members are Harold Spiegel, Marjorie Austin, Marjorie Ludwig, Caroline Young, Vesta Gillette, Eleanor Bliss, Curt Bormann, James Sebastian, Geraldine Miller, Mildred Towne, Catherine Robinson, Lawrence Osmun, Wesley Moore, Margaret Spiegel, Reba Richards, Holly Sleeper, and Margaret McCulloch.

Art Exhibit

The week of April 16-20 was a special Art Week in the Albion Public Schools, with two definite aims: First, to give every pupil an opportunity to study a splendid collection of reproductions of Fine Art Masterpieces; Second, to raise funds with which to purchase pictures for our school, many rooms not having good pictures to relieve the plain walls.

An exhibit of about 150 prints, all in color, were secured from the Colonial Art Co. of Oklahoma City. This exhibit had been placed in over 100 schools in Michigan and came highly recommended. The pictures, together with a general exhibit of public school art work from the grades 1 to 12, were arranged in the grade gymnasium of the High School, and opened to public school pupils during the week.

On the evening of April 19th the exhibit was opened to the public, followed by an entertainment of music, a one act play under the direction of Miss Way, and living Pictures under the direction of the P. T. A. Council, assisted by Mr. Ludwig.

JOKES

Raymond Marshall
sure is

H. Wickham—"I suppose you're just crazy to kiss me."

L. Kittenger—"I just have to be."

The Boss—"A stop watch, quick! I hear you married your stenographer, Rigdon."

Mr. Rigdon—"Yep. Back in those days she averaged 120 words a minute, but last night when I got in late, boy, howdy."

Thanks to Hank

One thing about Henry's new "Flyer planes"—they'll never hold up traffic on the hills.

Frosh—"Tell me, why does the Dining Hall manager get more pay than the professors?"

Ex-Senior—"Why shouldn't he? His courses are a lot more popular."

Hic!

"Shay, when did the prohibition law become effective?"

"Search me, I haven't been sober since."

Better save yours, dad.

"Where did you get this wonderful billing system? It could extract money from a Scotchman."

"I simply compiled the letters my son sent me from college."

"Did you hear about Red stepping in front of a train?"

"Was he killed?"

"No, too bad, the train was backing up."

"Yah ever heard that one about Hearts Desire telling 'er boy friends that No Man's Land was a girl's gymnasium?"

"Naw, spring it."

Hr. Hawes—"I want some tires."

Salesman—"Balloon tires?"

Hawes—"No, automobile tires."

Cheer Leader Stevens: "All together now, gang, let 'er rip. A locomotive and three coaches, a locomotive and three coaches, come on everybody, yell!"

From the Stands: "Hey, sonny, this here game is no railroad station."

Kattie Rob—"Basketball is my favorite game. What's yours?"

Marjorie Austin—"Fried Venison."

Another One of the Scotch

A Scotch undertaker was business from the neck up. Before he died he embalmed himself in order to take the business away from his Jewish competitor across the street.

L. E. O.—"You know, I'm funny like that—always throw myself into anything I undertake."

C. B. R.—"How perfectly splendid!" Why don't you dig a deep well?"

Mr. Harton in Social Problems class: "Who were the four horsemen?"

L. White—"Paul Revere, Jesse James, Teddy Roosevelt, and Barney 'Sparkplug' Google, sir."

Silence Is Bliss

Mr. Thomas—"Is it possible to conduct a secret in you?"

Mr. Walcott—"Certainly, I will be as silent as the grave."

Mr. Thomas—"I've a pressing need for three bucks."

Mr. Walcott—"Needn't worry, it is as if I had heard nothing."

Proverb

When better dates are made, they won't be blind ones. Ask the man who phones one.

Co-ed to Jim Sebastian at Stoddard's—"Have you any Life Buoy?"

Jim—"Sure thing, kid, just set the pace."

Russell—"Gosh, Milly, your dog just bit a chunk out of my leg."

"Thanks for mentioning it, I was just going to feed him."

L. Bacon—"I'll never marry until I meet my exact opposite."

R. Richards—"Gee Lloyd, there are a lot of intelligent girls in town."

Shake Well Before Using.

Shirley Osmun would like to call up Sir Isaac Newton and find out what he gave the Tower of Pisa to make it lean, when the radio is further perfected.

Dentist—"Will you have gas?"

Miss Krotzer—"Better look at the oil and water, too."

Correct!

Bunk—"What is a great time saver?"

Gordon—"Love at first sight."

Third Degree?

Lena Burns—"Is your boy friend a lady-killer?"

M. Chappell—"I'll witness the fact, he starves 'em to death."

Hey, have ya heard that one about the two Scotchmen who put up a bet to see which one of them could remain under water the longer. Each put up 50 cents. They dragged the river in the morning.

Miss Reynolds—"Wesley, give me a Bible quotation."

Wesley Moore—"Judas went out and hanged himself."

Reynolds—"And another one?"

Moore—"Go thou and do like-wise."

Norman Thwaites—"I was in the Grand Opera once."

Agnes—"Yon, Norman?"

Norman—"Sure, I fell from 'Nigger's Heaven' and lit on the stage."

Stingy farmer—"You don't need that lantern to go calling on your gal. When I went courting, I went in the dark."

Hired man—"Yas, an' look what ye got."

"Do you want a narrow man's comb?" inquired the clerk.

"No," growled the customer, "I want a comb for a fat man with rubber teeth."

And that's that.

Mr. Fisher to new recruits—"Say, When I say halt, I mean it. Bring the foot that's on the floor beside the one that's in the air and remain motionless."

Nathaniel F.—"Do you know Lincoln's Gettysburg address?"

Miss McCune—"Goodness me, I thought he lived at the White House."

Joe Miller reported that he is going to give up becoming a circus midget. He said:

"You can't trust circus freaks."

His change in opinion, we are told, came from the large newspaper heading, "Three armed men hold up bank."

Cinderella—"Godmother must I leave the dance at 12:00?"

Godmother—"You'll not go at all if you don't quit swearing."

Hired!

A patriarchial Jew saw a gold watch in a window of a Jeweler's Store on which a price of $10.00 was placed. The Jew addressed himself in this manner.

"Dis watch is ten dollars. Ets woith eight dollars, I'll offer him six dollars, he will ask me four dollars, I'll give him two dollars, discount deducted. Sold!"

Most Likely

Carl, before statue in Art Museum: Helen of Troy?

Bliss: No, Plaster of Paris.

Glen: Don't you think the mixed quartet was wonderful?

Ruth: Yes, I think it was a howling success.

During a total eclipse of the sun a Scotchman tried to send a telegram as a night letter.

Chuck Christensen: I refuse to take part unless you alter the manuscript.

"Why?" inquired Miss Reynolds.

It requires that I be stabbed in the prologue and I prefer to be stabbed somewhere else.

Miss McCune: When I get to heaven I'm going to ask Shakespeare if he wrote all of his plays himself.

Dave Garfield: But my word, Miss McCune, what if he isn't there?

McCune: Then you ask him for me and let me know?

R. Brown: A penny for your thoughts.

She: It's my luck this time for I wasn't thinking.

Oh! How Dreadful!

D. Shannon: Did you hear about M. Steeby getting electrocuted this A. M. at the bakery?

A. Waite: No, how did it all happen?

Dot: Why, he stepped on a cookie with a current in it.

Alex. Brail: How can you tell imitation pearls from real ones?

Jane Nowlin: You don't tell—you keep it to yourself dearie!

What's wrong with this picture?

If a fellow has a picture in the corner of his watch, it's a sure sign that there's a woman in the case.

"International Service"

Customer: Do you serve shrimps here?

H. Rather: Surely, sit down, we serve anybody.

W. G. H. S. Girl Killed—

A smile lit up her face and set the powder off.

Max Bushong (to court clerk): I—ach—er—um.

Clerk (to assistant): Henry, bring out one of those marriage license blanks.

Strong Talking Unnecessary Now

Mr. Bilhorn: Grace, I've swallowed my collar button.

Mrs. Bilhorn: Well, Clarence, now you know just where it is.

Victor: John wake up.

John: I can't.

V. Young: Why not?

J. Rood: How can I? I'm not asleep.

He: This lettuce tastes beastly—did you wash it?

She: Oh of course I did, darling,—and I used that perfumed soap you like so well.

Miss Foote (in Hygiene class): Why must we keep our homes always clean and neat?

B. McDougal: Because company may walk in any minute.

Worse and Worse

"How's ya' feeling now, Sam?"

"Liza, I's a sick man. De doctor says I'se got Berkolosis."

"Dats all right Sam; we'll take kear of ya' and get rid of dat Berkolosis."

The following day Sam was more discouraged than ever.

"Tain't no use Liza, no use, I ain't neva got a chance. De doctor says dis mornin' dat I'se got two Berkolosis!"

Son: "Say, Pa, Miss Krotzer asked me to find the least common divisor."

Papa: "Great heavens, is that thing still lost? She had me hunting for it when I was in school."

Mr. Walcott: "I shall now take some bichloride of mercury and—"

K. Hamaker: "Say, that wouldn't be a bad idea.

Shake Well

Shirley went to a dietitian. He prescribed the following: A few lettuce leaves without oil and a glass of orange juice daily for ten months.

To which Shirley Osmun asked, "Before or after meals?"

L. White: "Nate, if you were standing on ten cents how would it represent a Woolworth store?"

N. Fillmore: "I don't know exactly."

Bud: "Nothing over a dime."

Mrs. Tyler: "Any other absentees here?"

Oh! Doc!

"Look here," stormed the customer, pointing to the tureen, "what is the meaning of that dead fly in the soup?"

"I regret, sir?" said the waiter politely, "I cannot supply you with the desired information. I am only supposed to serve the soup, not to explain the ingredients."

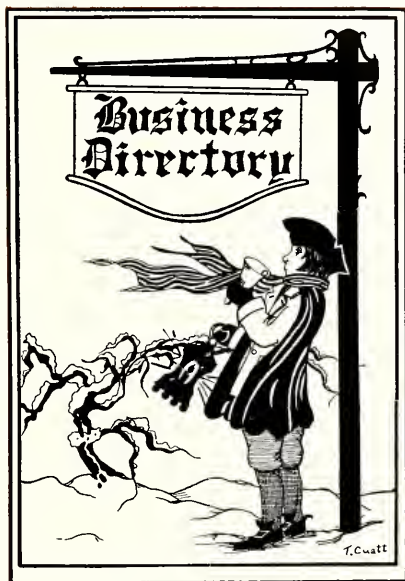

"But a dead fly, man," persisted the customer, "a dead fly?! How did it happen?"

"I am sorry to say, sir, I have no idea how the poor creature met its fate. Possibly it had not taken any food for a long time, and, fluttering near the soup, found the flavor particularly pleasing, and, eating too heartily, contracted appendicitis or some kindred ailment, which, in the absence of an opportunity for the application of X-rays and the resultant operation, caused its untimely demise."

Try This One

An Irishman was engaged to dig a well. When he had dug about twenty feet down, he came to the hole one morning and found it caved in and filled nearly to the top. Pat looked cautiously around, and seeing no one near, took off his hat and coat, hung them on the windlass, crawled into some bushes, and waited events.

In a short time people discovered that the well had caved in; and seeing Pat's hat and coat on the windlass, they supposed he had been buried by the fall of earth. Several hours of brisk digging cleared the loose earth from the well. Just as the eager workers had reached the bottom, and were wondering where the body was, Pat came out from the bushes and innocently asked them what they were looking for.

ALBION COLLEGE

¶ Commercially speaking, the high school graduate is only half a man. The college graduate sits in the swivel chair and pushes the button. The high school man answers his ring.

ALBION COLLEGE

¶ Albion College offers you right at home the advantages of the larger institution—a wide range of courses taught by specialists, a varied program of student activities and competitions; and the advantages of the small college—personal contacts with the faculty, a democratic spirit, friendships that never die. And all these things at reasonable cost.
